

ADEL VETERINARY CLINIC

MEDICINE • ACUPUNCTURE • BOARDING

Dr. Elizabeth Holland - Dr. Lisa Kilgore - Dr. Nicole Powers
Dr. Leah Thies – Dr. Holly Dolphin-Rooney

Feline Spay:

We recommend spaying pets for three major reasons:

1. No unwanted pregnancies
2. Reduces your pet’s risk of breast cancer
3. Eliminates the possibility of a life-threatening uterine infection called a Pyometra

If you are concerned about your pet going under anesthesia please chat with our team, it’s what we are here for. We understand your concerns and want to do what’s best for both you & your pet.

SAFETY	PROCEDURAL	COMPLIMENTARY
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pre-Anesthetic Blood Work • IV Fluids • Monitoring of: Oxygen Levels, Heart Rate, Blood Pressures, Gum Color 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pre-surgical pain medications • Removal of reproductive organs • Post Op Pain Meds • Antibiotic infused suture • Cold Therapy Laser 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pre-Surgical Comfort Meds • Pre-Surgical Exam • Nail Trim
		COMFORTS
		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Calming Pheromones • Homemade Quilts • Calming Music • Post-Op warm towels

We have found it to work best to just do a price range over an exact cost for this type of procedure:

$445-$750

Factors that would cause the price to increase would be the size of your pet, if you request a microchip ($76.00), if your pet is pregnant, in heat, has an umbilical hernia, or baby teeth. If bloodwork has been done within the 3 last months, this could decrease the price. If for some reason we expect it to be more than this range we will reach out to you. If financial assistance is needed please know we do accept Care Credit & Scratchpay, just apply online for pre-approval. We look forward to getting your pet scheduled today!